$30,000 Pledged

Hospital Fund Needs $20,000

The Newton Memorial Hospital Fund tallied about $30,000 in pledges and contributions by press time Wednesday, officials at fund drive headquarters announced.

A fund drive thermometer in front of the Newton Memorial Hospital Fund Headquarters, 207 South Houston, was erected last week and will register contributions and pledges toward the $50,000 minimum.

Advisory board officials urged the board membership to join in the all-out effort to contact Cameron and area businesses and individuals for pledges and contributions. Two weeks are remaining for Cameron to raise $50,000 minimum in order to qualify for the Hill-Burton grant of $150,000 to $200,000 and $60,000 in out-of-county funds that will be contributed if the local money is raised, officials emphasized.

Board members Tuesday night met for the kickoff program of the fund drive. A public information program to Cameron and area civic, church and other groups has been conducted during the past six weeks to explain the need for building a new Newton Memorial Hospital for $320,000 to $400,000.

Cameron's $50,000 contribution will ensure construction of the all-new, 28-bed hospital.

"With this amount pledged," one advisory official said, "board members surely will join in a final effort to raise the balance needed in pledges and contributions to bring Cameron a brand-new hospital in place of the present old Newton Memorial Hospital structure."

Visitors are welcomed at the Newton Memorial Fund drive head-bldg., next door to the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, for an explanation of the plans and need for the new structure.

The drive has been endorsed by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, the Knights of Pythias, the IOOF Lodge, Cameron Lions Club, The Cameron American Legion, Cameron B & PW Club, Cameron ministers, the Hill-Burton committee and state and federal governments and many other local groups.

Contributions are also forthcoming from donors in Houston, San Antonio, Lott and other Texas cities but are also contingent on Cameron's raising the necessary $50,000, officials said.

"The urgency of completing the drive within the next two weeks cannot be overemphasized," advisory board officials said. "This is a turning point for successful completion of the drive and construction of the hospital."

Seven New Buses Due ...

School Hires Two Coaches

The Cameron School Board Thursday night hired two new assistant high school coaches, voted to purchase seven new school buses and pay all teachers the same salaries as in 1959.

Dr. Earl Knebel, superintendent-elect, recommended the employment of Jack R. Larimore, 29, of El Paso, and Billy Ray Dickey, 24, of Pasadena, as assistant coaches for head coach Bill Bates' coaching staff.

And the board voted to purchase seven new school buses to replace seven old buses ranging from five to 10 years of age.

Board members heard Hilliard S. Thomas, vice-president of Citizens National Bank, explain financing methods for purchase of the vehicles. The school will buy the vehicles at 3 per cent interest under the depository agreement with the bank. Total cost of the seven vehicles would be about $36,000.

Millon Schiller, chairman of a board committee checking conditions of the buses, reported that five of the 11 district buses must be replaced while the others were serviceable.

Thomas pointed out that operating school buses over five years old was not practical because of high maintenance costs. The school recently had individual bus upkeep bills as high as $1,000 for repairs.

The two new assistant coaches will succeed Jerry Hopkins and Max Treadwell, who will complete one school year on the staff this week. Larimore and Dickey will join Bates to form an entirely new coaching staff at Yoe High School.

Coach Jim Speer resigned effective June 1 this winter.

Larimore will coach basketball and golf and will assist in coach-

He is married and has one young son.

In other board action, officials voted to pay all teachers the same salaries as in 1959.

ACCEPTED letters of resignation from Mrs. Glenda Dusek and Mrs. Malick, teachers this year in the Cameron system.

GAVE the go-ahead for Coach Bates to repair some football equipment and call for bids for other new athletic equipment for the 1960 - 61 year.

Dr. Knebel showed the board a tentative schedule already set up by Bates for an eight-game B team schedule and four-game freshman football schedule.

The board also approved $3 per student for 38 O. J. Thomas seniors to take a senior trip to Corpus Christi.

Council Offers Compromise To Lamar Group

City Councilmen Tuesday approved a 5.4-cent MCF increase for Lone Star Gas Co. and discussed paving requests with two delegations of citizens.

In a three-hour session the council agreed:

ONE — To gravel and improve surfacing on North Fannin St. from 18th to 22nd in North Cameron at the request of a delegation living along Fannin.

TWO — Offered to split the cost of pea graveling the curb-side areas of 32-foot streets in the Lamar Street area or to split the cost of asphalt paving the same areas outside an assured 22-foot width if the property owners desired.

Officials noted a misunderstanding about the proper width of the streets in that area. Curb lines were set at 32-foot widths, but residents in that area had already paid $1 per running foot for the street.

The city had recently asked for additional payment from property owners of about 50 cents per running foot for the 32-foot width while the property owners had paid an amount for a 22-foot width.

A delegation spokesman, Alvin Dusek, said the property owners had not been advised of the additional cost until after the curb lines were set this spring. The property owners felt, he noted, that by paying in advance for the street work last summer, they had fulfilled a contract binding to both property owners and the city.

The delegation agreed to contact all interested property owners again about the city's offer to solve the problem.

Mayor Coleman Duncum said he hoped the delegation realized he and the council had the interests of the delegation and all Cameron citizens at heart in offering the compromise. Shortage of uncommitted funds made it impossible to pave the whole area he said.

J. B. Earl, superintendent of public works, said the wider width was set for better drainage and to meet requirements called for under a master drainage plan established by the city in 1955. The misunderstanding apparently lay came when the exact width of the street was not clarified prior to emplacement of curbing.

The second delegation was assured that graveling and surface reworking would be scheduled for the four-block stretch of North Fannin.

In a third hearing on Lone Star Gas Co.'s request for a 5.4-cent rate increase, councilmen voted approval of the request. City Atty. Charlie Smith read letters from city attorneys in Hearne, Waco, Palestine and Temple stating that the cities had approved the rate increase request since authority for the increase from the field to city gas rates was passed by the Railroad Commission in Austin.

Charlie Burke, district manager of Lone Star Gas Co., assured the group that the increase was only to cover the additional 5.4-cent per thousand-cubic-foot cost being charged at the city rate in Cameron.

Smith read a letter from the head Lone Star Gas Co. attorney explaining that 227 cities had already approved the request.

Building Fund Meeting

A general meeting will be held at the Newton Memorial Hospital Building Fund headquarters at 7:30 Tuesday night. Members of the advisory board and the general public is invited to attend.

Modernization Continues In Downtown Area

Modernization of downtown businesses took another upswing this week as work progressed on the exteriors and fronts of several Cameron buildings.

Workmen were sanding the First National Bank Building and painting window trim. And remodeling was underway on the fronts of Esslinger Grocery and the next door building.

New Cameron Drug has painted its front and plans are underway for painting or modernizing store fronts of Schigut's Dept. Store, the offices of Dr. Gus Evans, Jr. and Zarosky TV.

Construction work was also underway to build a dining room on to the Texan Cafe, owner Tommy Thompson reported.

Recently completed improvements include the painting and sanding of the Milam Courthouse, sanding of Citizens National Bank and the offices of Emory B. Camp, remodeling at Sanders and Fikes Service Stations, painting on the Lippman Building, complete interior remodeling of Harden Jewelers, and other work in Cameron business houses.

A number of homes are being repainted and remodeled or expanded in the spring modernization drive.

Beard Contest Now Underway

May 16 was the opening day for beards and a lot of Cameron men were developing "Western Week" shadow in the race for "best brush raisers" titles.

It marked the opening gun of Western Week promotion that is expected to be climaxed with a pony express ride to Austin for Gov. Price Daniel's proclamation of the event.

Scheduled July 11-16, Western Week itself will be bigger than the first promotion last summer with enlarged plans already going ahead on schedule.

Highlight of Western Week will be the Cameron Saddle Club's Show, deemed one of the finest in Texas by quarterhorse experts.

Chamber Manager Jack DuBois noted that four divisions of beard competition will be open: 1. Best Moustache; 2. Best goatee; 3. Best red, black or blond beard; and 4. Best all-round beard.

Entry fee will be 50 cents for each contestant. Last year about 200 Countians sported every type of beard in the contest.

He said entries may be registered at the Cameron Chamber of Commerce office.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners of the four divisions Saturday night, July 16, at the Saddle Club Horse Show at Wilson-Ledbetter Park.

"Brother of the Brush" buttons will be furnished each entry. All men of Cameron are required to let their beards grow between now and July 16 unless they have a "shave permit" button, DuBois said. They will cost $1.

He noted that the buttons will be available within about 10 days. They will be distributed to contestants and non-contestants at that time, DuBois said.

Saddle Club, Senior and Junior Chamber committees have set in motion a campaign boosting shaving buttons, non-shavers buttons, Western Week ties and other items to stimulate interest in the show.

County Agents Notes ...

When To Spray Pecan Orchards

By J. D. Moore, County Agent

During past years recommendations have been made to spray for control of the nut casebearer when the ends of the small pecans turn brown. This condition exists now. Residual sprays are used along with this recommendation hoping for a control period to last several days.

This subject, as in the case of other technical developments, has not changed but better results have been obtained by using malathion. This insecticide is not a residual spray consequently, the timing of the spray is more important.

This subject, as in the case of other technical developments, has not changed but better results have been obtained by using malathion. This insecticide is not a residual spray consequently, the timing of the spray is more important.

Growers should make a decision to do one of two things: 1 learn to recognize early symptoms of casebearer damage and make spray applications accordingly, or 2) turn the job over to someone who will be responsible for the control application.

Helicopter Service Available - A commercial company from Austin will spray commercial orchards upon request. This company has a field man to check the trees for correct timing of applications for better results. Those interested in this service may contact the county agents office.

Local spray service is also available upon request. A number of trees were checked locally by the county agent on May 13 in the Cameron area. No worm damage was evident.

Fenuron pellets demonstration - Mr. A. L. Lucas of Rockdale will conduct a small plot test using two kinds of fenuron pellets to kill Post Oak trees. Those in the Rockdale area are invited to observe this test.

Early spray applications on cotton will pay - Thrip damage retards stalk development, delays fruiting, thereby resulting in lower yields, later crop harvest and possible lower grades of cotton due to fall rains, etc.

Thrip damage is present in cotton fields and spray applications should be made as soon as possible.

A Swine probing demonstration was held recently on the John Parmelee place near Rockdale. Eight Hampshire gilts were weighed, proved for back fat and selected for breeding replacements on the basis of their ability to grow as well as meat type characteristics.

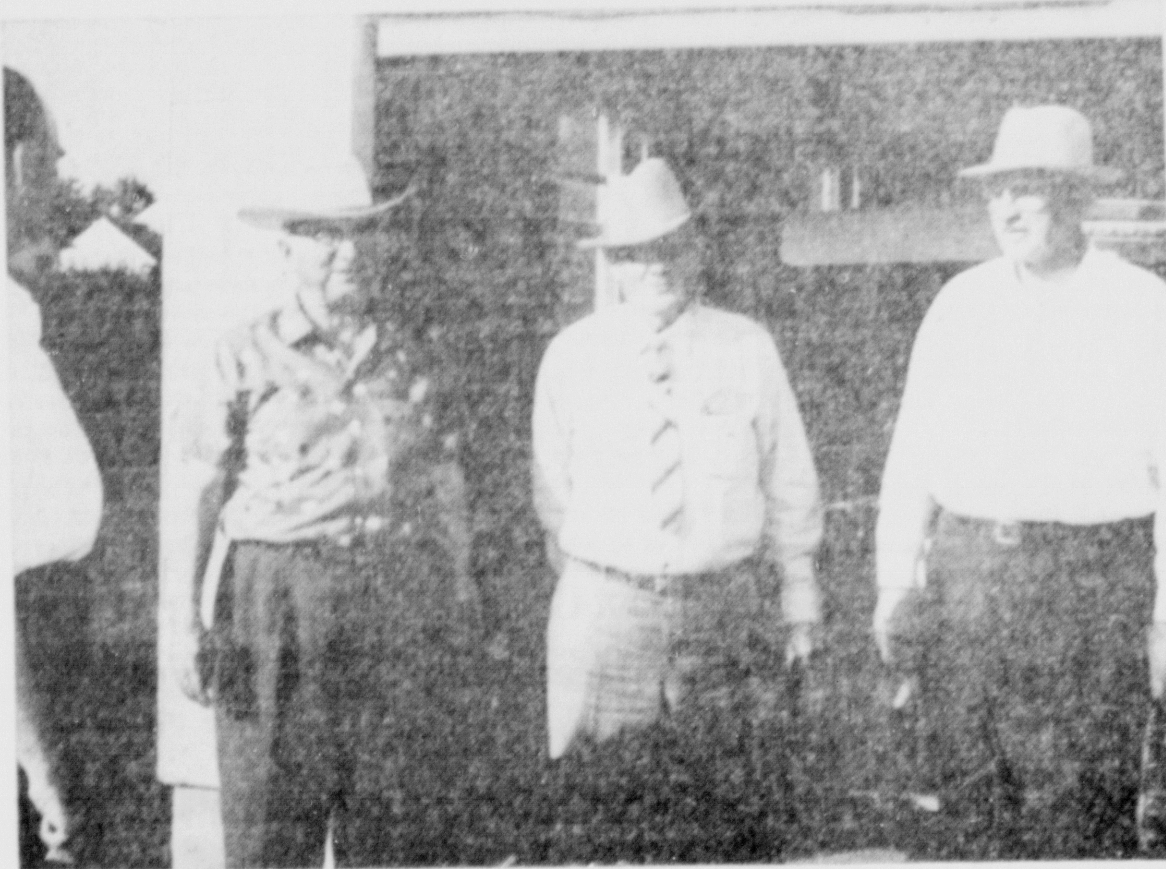

These gilts were sired by a high testing boar purchased at the A & M sale of tested boars last year.

Parmelee has recently purchased another high index boar to further improve the meat - type qualities of his swine.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dillenburg and family of Houston visited her mother Mrs. Mary Martin and Hugh, and the Phil Krause family recently.

4-H Club Notes

By Robert Hoermann
Ass't County Agent

Bill Marek showed a film FROM PLANTING TO HARVESTING of crops on the Joe Mueck farm three miles south of Cameron.

Twelve people attended the meeting.

Roy Dean and Henry Tomasek, Jr., Ad Hall 4-H Club, planted a grass demonstration plot May 12. Tested in the plot will be various native grasses. Drought resistance and yield will be factors studied by the 4-H members.

Both boys have been on Milam county Grass Judging Teams. Henry was a member of the First place District Team in 1959.

Seed for the plot was furnished by the Texas Extension Service Range Department.

Ward Paschall and Rita Stewart, Milam 4-H members, provided the entertainment at the recent Chamber of Commerce Broiler Banquet at the Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron.

Rita represented the Milam County 4-H at the District Talent Show in April.

The County 4-H Camp Foods committee met Tuesday, May 12 in

The group decided to have the traditional Ham Supper and members to provide their own lunch for the noon meal.

How is the water situation on your farm - water for fire fighting? Do some thinking and checking during Spring Clean - Up on how well you're prepared.

No water available or inadequate water supply is all too often the significant phrase on the reports of farm fire losses recorded by the National Fire Protection Association. Rural fire protection authorities recommend that at least 3,000 gallons of water be immediately available on every farm for fire fighting purposes - useable all seasons and always kept clean.

To make the best possible use of water supplies now at hand on your farm, make this Spring check - up: Have you notified your fire department of the location of all water supplies around your farm - wells, brooks, ponds, stock tanks and cisterns?

Are approaches to the supplies well - marked and solid enough so that fire pumps can get close enough to draw water without getting mired?

If the water supply is a pond, stream or drainage ditch, have you set up a stone - lined water hole or concrete cistern, to reduce the chance of the suction hose fou-

Planting Temporary Pastures Valuable For Summer Grazing

COLLEGE STATION — Summer temporary pastures are valuable for several reasons. Probably the most important is that they offer one of the most dependable sources of summer grazing, says George McBee, extension pasture specialist. Also, with proper management they will provide a large volume of high quality grazing, permitting permanent pastures to be rested.

Several types of plants can be used. Sudan is still one of the most dependable. Varieties of Sudan include Sweet, Common, Tift, Piper and Others.

Pearl millet is suggested for use where Sudan does not produce satisfactorily, mainly on acid, sandy soils of East Texas and severely eroded soils of Central Texas. Varieties include Georgia Hybrid No. 1, Common, Starr and Texas No. 7. Perennial sweet Sorghum can also be used the agronomist says. It has a sweet stalk which is coarser than Sudan and the peak of grazing is mid - summer to fall. It should be handled as an annual.

Another, sorghum alnum, is nonsweet and has a larger stalk than sudan. It gives more grazing in mid - summer to fall than sudan and is more successful when handled as an annual.

"Yes" answers to all these questions means you score well on water for fire safety. On any "No" answers, you'll be smart to get

Griffin Chapel Community Wins First In Improvement Program

The Griffin Chapel Community won first place in the Southern District Community Improvement Program and will receive a cash prize of $100.00.

The bases of the judging were: A record book containing individual family reports, news articles and pictures of the community activities and progress, and a community visit on April 23 by judges composed of members of the Prairie View A & M College Extension Service staff consisting of Miss M. Griffin Chapel is now competing for one of the state prizes of $500, $400, and $300.

On May 16 - 17, the state judging committee will select 3 communities from the 14 district winners. The state judging committee which will consist of Extension Specialists from A & M College will visit the 3 top communities during the week of May 23. These judges are Mrs. Laura Russell, Specialist in Housing - Home Furnishings; John Box, Agronomist; and George McBee, Pasture Specialist. This Community Improvement Program is sponsored by the Electric Utility Companies Operating in Texas in Cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schonhoef and son had as dinner guests her sister Mrs. Helen Stepan and granddaughter, Miss Peeler of Ft. Worth and for supper they had her brother James Bowen, wife and two sons of Big Springs and Mrs. J. N. Bowen of Bellfairs. Others came and visited in the afternoon.

An Accident Can Take Farm Profits

COLLEGE STATION — There isn't any profit in farm accidents, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. The Council goes on to say that it is difficult to place a dollar value on the cost of a farm accident because there are many indirect as well as direct costs which must be taken into account.

The costs of farm work accidents - like an iceberg - are largely hidden. The small portion of the iceberg above the water line can represent the direct costs which in case of a farm accident will be largely medical.

The large portion of the iceberg below the water line represents the indirect or hidden costs. Some of these indirect costs are: time lost by the injured worker, cost of hired help to do the necessary farm work, possible loss of farm crops due to delay in harvesting, and damage to farm equipment.

Doctor Cited As NMH Namesake

Dr. William R. Newton, Cameron surgeon in whose name the present Newton Memorial Hospital was commemorated, died 22 years ago, May 21, 1938, advisory board officials said this week as the fund drive kickoff began for a new hospital structure.

He was a well known surgeon and member of the Texas State Senate representing the 13th district.

Hundreds of persons attended the funeral for Dr. Newton, who died at the age of 64 of a heart attack.

Gov. James Allred was among a number of state officials attending the funeral. Records show it required 8 trucks to carry flowers in the funeral procession.

The Rev. Vernon G. Miles, then pastor of the First Baptist Church and the Rev. O. C. Acree, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated at funeral services. The funeral lasted more than three hours.

Dr. Newton underwent surgery, but a blood clot in the heart artery was fatal.

He was founder of one of the first hospitals in Cameron and was commemorated in 1942 when construction of the present Newton Memorial Hospital began.

Summit Goes 'Boom'!

The United States and our President have taken a buffeting in Paris this week that illustrates the absolute ferocity of Russian "diplomacy."

Premier Khrushchev has demanded of President Eisenhower unconditional apology for U. S. flights over Soviet territory and immediate cessation of so-called aggressive "over flights."

To top off a Russian-imposed crisis at the Paris Summit, Khrushchev rocked the world by withdrawing an invitation to President Eisenhower to visit Russia. This recision is tantamount to slapping an assaliant across the face with one's gloves to provoke a duel for honor.

Observers see this as chaos tacked upon a fragmentary Summit cause. Diplomats, politicians and the press of the world can find little to salvage, though Britain's Macmillan is going from one power to another in hopes of modifying disaster.

President Eisenhower has labeled Khrushchev's actions as premeditated sabotage of the Summit, planned well before he reached Paris.

Of course, Mr. K has used the fallen spy plane incident, a monumental blunder in itself, to trigger his explosive remarks. The truth is the Russians knew of Western flights in and around Russia as early as 1958 and protested such flights around the arctic area in the United Nations.

Khrushchev planted a trap for U. S. diplomats in first announcing that a plane had fallen earlier this month. After receiving an American denial of such flights, Khrushchev announced that the pilot was in Russian custody and the plane had fallen 999 miles within Russian borders.

His momentous use of the incident literally lifted the lid of the Summit.

Observers point out that Khrushchev is using his personal power in world politics to stabilize Russian domestic problems. And in suggesting that a Summit be held six or eight months from now, Khrushchev attempted to intimidate U. S. domestic affairs by saying in effect, "I would rather meet with the new president, Eisenhower and I can't work this thing out."

The boldness and irresponsibility of the act are beyond any comparison in modern international relations. We would estimate that by taking this action, Khrushchev will:

ONE—Provoke world public opinion against himself and Russia, which will in turn:

TWO—Reduce rather than increase his grasp of Russian internal control following criticism from Red China, reduction of Soviet armed forces and failure to solve the Berlin question in the interests of Communism.

He is following the traditional Communist line of labeling somebody else an aggressor in order to solidify Russian opinion in favor of the government.

The whole thing is headed for United Nations hearings and the results will spell a case of cold war nerves dissimilar to anything since Korea.

Cen - Tex Population . . .

Though we have not received population totals of Milam County can take an optimistic appraisal of population trends in Central Texas non-metropolitan counties.

We can say this after reviewing the returns of most of the counties surrounding Milam and even the percentages of metropolitan Waco's growth.

The average loss of about eight surrounding counties of basically rural population is about 10 percent. This includes preliminary census figures on Williamson, Milam, Burleson, Caldwell, Lee, Washington, Robertson and Falls Counties.

Milam County's percentage of loss is the least with 6 percent, down from 23,585 to 22,149 people. Heaviest hit in terms of percentages was Lee County which lost 1,495 in the last decade and reduced its population from 10,144 to 8,619, a loss of 15 percent.

Falls County lost about 5,000 population and Robertson County about 3,000. Neighboring Burleson County is down 13 percent from 13,000 to 11,248.

Metropolitan Waco showed a gain up to 30 percent during the past 10 years, with Waco itself gaining 15.9 percent.

The concentration of population loss shows the problem of agriculture-oriented Central Texas counties. Even though the cities show slight to steady gains, the population development shows the need for tipping the scales in another direction.

An answer to this problem may be some type of area organization that would develop the many natural resource advantages of Central Texas, chief among them water.

A state-wide movement to promote Texas' many advantages for residence and industry is a good thing. But specific geographic areas have natural interests which necessarily would be secondary to the whole of Texas in the eyes of government promoters of state publicity.

Perhaps the inevitable conclusions drawn from these Cen-Tex population figures will spur Central Texas or portions of it to integrate their interests and stem the outflow of our most vital commodity, people.

Nobody Asked Me, But . . .

If you are wondering how much tax you actually pay, just count every fourth dollar as support for federal, state, county or local government.

That's the minimum that anybody pays . . . 25 percent. The higher the earning power, the greater the percentage of tax load . . . up to 90 percent in the highest federal tax brackets.

There's an English economist, Parkinson, who has theorized that general taxation in excess of 25 percent is restrictive to national development. He lives in a case in point, England. There the tax structure averages upwards to 40 percent. If you examine England's status among competitive world powers, you will find her fortunes waning. Socialism on a broad scale dominates the British scene.

You cannot economize on ability. If it is not rewarded by recognition, it is minimized. Unused ability is as valueless as no ability at all.

Russia rewards her ability in the same terms used in any free economy . . . She has tried equalitarian theories and seen lack-luster performance. It is not mediocrity that has put her composers, scientists and writers in the first order of contribution.

Moving closer to the premise of Socialism is not raising our hopes for success in peace or war. In the final analysis your contribution should equal your withdrawal.

Johnson, Poage Discuss Issues

House . . .

By Cong. Bob Poage

Although work progressed rather rapidly on both the Floor of the House and in the Committee this past week, everyone's major interest was fixed on the spy problem and the varied explanations offered by our government. Very few question the necessity of these flights, but most everyone here wonders why we should say anything at all, and especially why the President should publicly state we are going to continue these activities. It looks to me like we have talked too much.

The Agriculture Committee continued to work on the details of a general farm bill, but on my motion laid it aside long enough to consider and report a continuation of the Mexican Labor Bill. I sponsored the original Bracero Bill and I feel that experience shows clearly that it has gone a long way toward eliminating the veil of the old "wet back" system and at the same time has provided a needed supply of farm labor without in any way hurting American workers. We will, however, probably have difficulty passing the bill through the House, as many people completely misunderstand the measure and think of it as a bill to authorize "wet backs."

The House passed the Agricultural Appropriation Bill containing an appropriation of $1,325,000,000 for making good the losses of the Commodity Credit Corporation. Here, too, there is much misunderstanding. It is often stated that if we had direct compensatory payments for cotton that it would put the farmers "at the mercy of Congress" — meaning that Congress might at any time fail to appropriate the money needed. That is, of course, true, but it is also true of the present program. Direct payments for wool are made out of CCC funds just as direct payments for cotton would be made, and just as the present subsidy on cotton exports are made. All of these show up as losses of the CCC. Congress has to appropriate money to replenish the CCC funds each year under present programs.

The passage of the bill emphasizes the stupendous cost of the present low support program. Prior to 1953 our policy was to support agricultural commodities as high as practicable and up until Mr. Benson became Secretary of Agriculture we had not lost a dime of CCC money in the support of all six basic crops. The present Administration immediately began to lower supports — farm prices went down but without any relief to the taxpayers. Actually, during the first seven years of this Administration the Department of Agriculture has spent more money ($37,917,500,000.00) than had been spent by all previous Secretaries of Agriculture combined. (The expenditures from 1862 to 1953 were only $35,843,085,296.00).

Senate . .

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson said Sunday this is a time in which Americans should keep cool heads and their feet on the ground.

Johnson, in a weekly report to his constituents recorded for radio broadcast in Texas, discussed the shooting down of an American plane over Soviet territory.

"Communists", he pointed out, "do not react to events. What they do, is to set a goal and then select the events which they believe will bring them to that goal."

"In this case, it is obvious that their goal is to disrupt to some degree the relations between the United States and the Soviet Union."

The Senator suggested, "It may be that Nikita Khrushchev is determined that there will be no results whatever from the Summit conference and is preparing an alibi in advance.

"It may be that Premier Khrushchev is trying to prepare a bargaining position for the Soviet negotiations.

"It is even conceivable that Nikita Khrushchev is having some internal difficulties and is trying to unite the people of Russia — and perhaps even draw the Chinese Communists closer to him — by holding forth the specter of war."

"We do not know for certain," Johnson said, "But one clear lesson can be drawn, and it is that the United States does not dare relax its guard for a moment."

Interest Focused On Legislature

AUSTIN — With the main state elections over, statehouse interest now focuses on next January when a new Legislature will meet.

Lawmakers will have to hack their way through the same old jungle of state money problems that faced them in '59. Again the goal will be to find enough tax revenue to pay off the state's debts and provide government services for another two years.

Blazing of some possible paths is already under way. Gov. Price Daniel's 30-member State Finance Advisory Commission begins this week assembling data on the state's future financial needs and how they can be met.

Governor Daniel has said he will propose five different tax plans for Commission study. Any one of the plans, said the governor, would wipe out the deficit in the state's general revenue fund and provide for expected future needs without a state income tax or general sales tax.

Secretary of State Zollie Steakley is chairman of the Finance Commission.

BE NICE TO TOURISTS

Out-of-state visitors will get the red carpet treatment when they stop for gasoline if Governor Daniel's advice is heeded.

Speaking to the Texas Association of Service Stations, the governor urged the state operators to sell Texas as well as gasoline to the tourists. Everyone will benefit from more tourists and longer visits, he said.

Last year 9,600,000 tourists came to Texas and spent $431,000,000. Of this, $77,000,000 went for gasoline, with $10,000,000 in taxes going to the state.

That's a lot of tourists, but not so many as the state could and should have, says the governor.

He urged the station operators to be salesmen for their communities and areas and encourage travelers to do more sightseeing.

MR. TEXAS MOVES TO TOWN
Early studies of Texas' 1960 census figures indicate that while Texas cities are getting bigger, the wide open spaces are getting less and less cluttered with people.

Much of the explosive growth of cities apparently has been at the expense of surrounding rural areas either by annexation or by the moving of country dwellers to the near-by city.

The LITTLE RIVER Philosopher

THIS WEEK:

Dear editor:

I have been thinking long and hard over the big spy question and so far I haven't come to any valuable conclusions, other than it might be better to spy with an atomic-powered submarine instead of an airplane, the kind of sub that just spent three months under water without coming up traveling around the earth. You may not see as much as you do from an airplane, but it's a whole lot safer.

On the other hand, the problem of who owns the sky has been engaging my thoughts, and while it's a hard problem, it's not as hard as farming.

You take my farm out here. My deed says I own the land and everything under it, and my neighbors own everything under theirs, but if you stop and think, you know that the deeper in the ground you go, the less you own, if the world is really round. The nearer you approach the center of the earth, the narrower your wedge of earth becomes, until finally, when everybody's property line reaches the center, everybody is squabbling over a pin-point piece of ground. Wonder what Mr. Khrushchev has to say about this?

Now you take the sky above my farm. I don't know exactly where the sky begins, but I know I must own some space above the ground,

Cameronites Receive Honors At Baylor

Tom G. Collins, freshman student of the Baylor Law School, has been elected president of the Spring Quarter Class. He is the son of Mrs. Bassel Wilson, Cameron.

Wayne Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, Cameron, has been elected President of the Baylor Student Bar Association.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Howard visited friends in Cameron recently. Former Cameron residents the Howards now reside in Richardson.

Mrs. Florence Markham had as guests this week-end her daughter Sammie Dell Markham of Corpus Christi and her sister, Mrs. L. W. Grayson of Taft.

Unreasonable Questions About Spies And Who Owns The Sky

at least I don't believe the law would allow somebody to build a shed over my land, even if I did have room enough to drive a tractor under it without hitting my head. But after you get up a few thousand feet, I don't know. I do know, I can see how no country wants another country's airplane flying around up there photographing whatever it can find, but how about 200 miles up? 500? With a photographing satellite? You can see it every country owns all the sky above it, upward forever, and the earth is spinning through space, somebody is going to have a hard time marking his exact amount of sky and keeping track of it. It's pretty complicated.

I sometimes get the idea the universe is just too big for man to handle.

It's all a problem I will leave to Washington.

Just looking at the shape of my Johnsongrass farm, I figure it's more than I can handle.

Your faithfully,
J. A.
